

ON MEMORIAL DAY.

To honor Past, O Nation,
To thy Future to be true;
The longer line of the children
Leads the shorter line of the Blue.

The Past—the man and the musket;
The Present—the child and the school;
The Future—a holier people,
And they who obey shall rule.

Fear not for thy flag or thy freedom,
While the hearts of the homes are true;
The lengthening line of the children
Cheers the shortening line of the Blue.

—R. P. D. Thompson, Maysville, Ky.

Equity tobacco has been rolling in this week. By tomorrow night E. T. Kirk will have taken in at his warehouses in Bank street 225,000 pounds of the weed. At 15 cents per pound that represents some money.

Major Geo. W. Goethals, third Chief Engineer of the Panama Canal, it is rumored will retire from the work. It is further stated that there is to be a general shakedown in the Commission and in the officials.

Notice—The tobacco stoks you left with me when you delivered your tobacco are now ready for you. Please call and get them first time you are in and I will pay you 10c per hundred for your trouble. Respectfully, E. T. Kirk.

There is craze on the kitchen door at the New Central. The familiar swagger and queer antics of old Goebel as he held forth in the office lobby will be seen no more, having passed in his checks and gone to the happy shores of the dog aprit lend.

A DEATH TRAP

On Sutton Street—Burned Buildings a Menace to Passers By and the Public

THE LEDGER on several occasions has called attention to the dangerous condition of the burned buildings on the West side of Sutton, North of Second street. The tottering walls have been a constant menace to human life for the past seven months, and left as they are now standing it will only be a question of time until some person is killed.

Last night the flooring gave way and tumbled down with a terrible crash, alarming the neighborhood and attracting a crowd of a hundred people to the spot. Only five minutes before a lady resident of Front street had passed the dangerous spot.

If something is not done immediately looking to the razing of the overhanging walls it will be criminal negligence both on the part of the city officials as well as the owners of the property. Further delay should not be tolerated.

MILLERS IN SESSION

Only a Social Meeting But Discussion Was of Much Interest

There was an important meeting of millers and grain dealers held in the parlor of the New Central Hotel in this city yesterday afternoon. The purport of the gathering is said to have been merely a social one, the interchanging of opinions and a closer understanding in business relationship.

Those with whom The Ledger Scribe talked disclaimed any intention of the formation of an Association for the controlling of prices in grain, or any kind of a combination whereby restriction of trade is in evidence. It was simply as stated above, a social meeting and nothing more.

The session was well attended and representatives from various parts of the state were present. Among the number were W. T. Dougherty of Nepton, James Irvin of Washington, John T. Logan, Secretary of Kentucky Millers' Association, Thomas Corlis, Brooksville, D. L. Hunter, Washington, C. A. Wuerth, Cincinnati, W. J. Kennedy, Carlisle, A. D. Keith and L. H. Hall, Sardis, J. P. Arnold.

DEMOCRATIC newspapers are very responsive to Senator Knox and quick to declare that in his recent speech to Yale students, "Knox sounds the keynote." Not "the keynote," but Knox's keynote. That's all.

It is safe to say that the Colored Christian Church at Carlisle, which was struck by lightning Sunday, after having lost its Pastor by assassination a few weeks ago, are just now doing some serious thinking.—The Paris Kentuckian-Citizen.

WHAT we are here to assert and reiterate is that as nice a man as the Hon. A. E. WILLSON is, he will never be Governor of the grand old state of Kentucky.—Frankfort State Journal.

That sounds very much like the threats made by your party in the dark days of 1899. Are you going to try to Goebelize the Kentucky election again in 1907?

HERE at least is a new and novel, but substantial, reason why the price of gasoline is increased by the Standard Oil Company. In the trial of the cases at Findlay, Ohio, against the company, Vice-President SQUIRES testified that there is such a demand for gasoline at this time of the year that the price is made a little stiff in order to curtail the consumption. This elucidation is quite clear to the common people who have been thoroughly educated in the elementary branches as well as the higher principles of the law of supply and demand. The same thesis applies to the railway 3-cent rate. Charge the people more and they would travel less and the railroads would be put to less expense to haul them. So, also, with sugar and coffee and tea; the higher the prices the less bought and used. It's the strangle hold the trusts have on the consumer in doling out the supply which makes the price just what the trusts demand.

AN UNIQUE LAW FIRM.
 When Senator Wolcott first went to Colorado he and his brother opened a law office at Idaho Springs under the firm name of "Ed. Wolcott & Bro." Later the partnership was dissolved. The future Senator packed his few assets, including the sign that had hung outside of his office, upon a burro and started for Georgetown, a mining town farther up in the hills; upon his arrival he was greeted by a crowd of miners who critically surveyed him and his outfit. One of them, looking first at the sign that hung over the pack, then at Wolcott and finally the donkey, ventured, "Say, stranger, which of you is Ed?"

Strawberries, HOME GROWN
 Are now coming. My usual arrangements with the growers will enable me to place on the market the finest berries that come to this market. The berries will be sold in the original packages filled by the pickers in the patches and in full size cans, consequently the buyer will always get full and honest measure. No dumping out and refilling will be allowed in my house.
"PERFECTION" is the name of the finest Flour sold in Maysville. No better can be made. It always gives satisfaction.
COFFEES—My stock is the largest in the city. I buy directly from the importers green and have them roasted and blended according to my own ideas after an experience of many years in the business. Always fresh; no stale goods ever offered.
TEAS—My stock is the finest and prices the lowest. Can't beat them anywhere.
FRESH VEGETABLES—During the season my house, as usual, will be headquarters for the very best and freshest Vegetables the markets afford.
CUT PRICES ON CANNED GOODS still continue and will until all closed out.
HAMS AND BREAKFAST BACON—My arrangement with the packers enables me to offer to the trade the finest and most delicious that can be made. Always cured out of selected young hogs. When you want the best always buy the Star Brand in Red Canvases.
 My LARD is made by the same packer especially for my trade and is strictly Pure Leaf Lard. I guarantee every article I sell to be just as recommended. I buy Butter, Eggs, Poultry, Country Hams, Bacon and all kinds of Country Produce, for which I pay cash. Country people when in our city specially invited to come in; you are always welcome.

MISTAKE WAS THE WIFE'S.
 Charge Against Husband Made Without Due Thought.
 Jamca McCrea, the new president of the Pennsylvania railroad, said in an interview in Pittsburgh, apropos of a false charge against a financial institution: "This charge was more than refuted. The institution came out with flying colors. It reminds me of an incident that happened when I was a rodmn in my youth. Working on the Connelleville line, I took a number of meals with a middle-aged farmer and his wife. One day at dinner I noticed that the farmer's wife seemed rather out of sorts, and after dinner I wasn't surprised to hear her say: 'Josiah Simmons, to think that you have forgotten that this is the anniversary of our wedding!' Old Josh flushed guiltily, looking up from his paper with a start. Then he frowned and said in a surprised voice: 'Why, mother, you must be mistaken.' We were married on the eighth.' The wife bit her lip. 'Oh, excuse me,' she said. 'I was thinking of my first marriage anniversary.'"

DUE TO GIFT OF SPEECH.
 Many and Various Are the "Benefits," Says Writer in Puck.

The gift of speech is the last proof of divine favor, in virtue of which mankind has the rest of the animal kingdom faded, and stands in a class by himself. Some beasts are stronger than men, and some know more, but no beast can be such a bore as a man, nor can any beast slop over, in the true sense of the term. These distinctions we owe to the gift of speech. The gift of speech, moreover, lays us under compulsion to read a great many things which otherwise we would not, in order that when we have nothing to say, we may nevertheless say something. Thus we promote the publishing business, create a demand for wood-pulp, assist in the deforestation of the earth's surface, stir up a new school of kickers, increase discontent and contribute, at length, to progress and petulance. Our ancestors used to consider speech a means of concealing thought, but we have nothing to conceal.—Puck.

The Coward in Us All.
 One little sentence written by V. V. V. in the Sphere stabs one rather poignantly. "I am a coward at heart." There are things that a man suspects about himself but does not say, says a writer in the London Chronicle. For example, you may see a man grinning when he is accused of being a cynic, but one has not heard a man saying calmly and seriously, "I am a bit of a snob." Snobism is not a vice for the public confessional. You may accuse a man of being a "Lothario" and he will be pleased. If you call him a coward—it is a challenge. Yet there is always the snapping point. And V. V. V. shows his courage in confessing the universal failure of civilized man, "I am a coward at heart."

Parable with a Sting.
 Bart Kennedy, the English novelist and sociologist, in the course of a bitter attack on the senate, said in Washington: "The senate is true to the American people. Oh, yes; very true to them. Very true indeed. Whenever I think how true the senate is to the people the case of Mary Miles comes into my mind. Mary's husband was a soldier. A soldier out in India, fighting for his king. And one day a friend said to Mary: 'Mary, are your thoughts always true to Charlie, away out there, fighting the hill tribes?' 'Yes, indeed, they are,' Mary answered. 'Whenever a man kisses me I shut my eyes and try to think it's Charlie.'"—Chicago Chronicle.

Much Money Awaits Heira.
 A will dated 1745 and deposited in the Bank of England has just been discovered in that establishment. The testator left his property—worth $25,000—to a family named Windel, living in Fuerstenburg, a village near Baden. During all the years that the will was forgotten the money has been increasing at compound interest and the sum is now $7,250,000. People at Fuerstenburg bearing the name of Windel have heard of the matter and have sent agents to London with papers that, they contend, show their descent from the Windel family named in the will.

"He Who Keepeth His Tongue."
 An old fashioned minister was visiting his son in New York recently, and was taken to a fashionable church for the Sunday morning service. The pastor is a young man of great culture, but evidently his oratorical efforts did not greatly impress the visitor, for when they were walking homeward the son remarked approvingly: "That was a good sermon, an excellent sermon. The congregation like Dr. Blank very much." "Yes, a good sermon undoubtedly," his father replied. "It could not possibly have touched a sore spot anywhere."

Infection From a Glass Vase.
 The authorities of the Royal museum at Dresden have discovered a glass vase in one of their showcases, dating from the eighteenth century, which shows every sign of suffering from a wasting disease, and not only is it wasting away, but the authorities declare it has infected the other glass vases in its immediate neighborhood. The vase has been carefully examined by experts and various medicines, externally applied, have been prescribed to stay the progress of the malady, but all to no purpose.

 The Endeavor Society of the Christian Church gave a very pleasant social in the Sunday-school room of the Church last evening. These events are for the purpose of bringing the members more closely together, and by the social features to add to the Society. Games and music, with refreshments, make up the program, and a general good time is afforded for all. It is the intention of the Endeavorers to have these affairs often, and thus work up the Society to its fullest extent.

 The Fiscal Court of a county, under a decision of the Court of Appeals, may not grant the right to lay oil or gas mains along the public roads without permission from the owners in fee of the land through which the road runs. It is held that the roads are not on the same basis as the streets of a city, and the property-owners do not surrender their rights when they deed the land for public purpose of travel.

 The sum of $200,000 is to be raised as soon as possible by the General Association of Kentucky Baptists to erect a sanitarium in Louisville. The plan was authorized by the Association, in session at Mayfield, and work will be begun at once soliciting funds. The plan is to issue 200,000 shares of $1 each, and no free patients will be treated. An auxiliary association will be formed to pay the expenses of indigent persons who may be ill.

The Carlisle Commercial Club has decided to abandon the idea of oiling the streets of Carlisle. The total cost of two oilings would amount to something over $1,500. The Nicholas County Fiscal Court refused to assist in the oiling, and the funds raised by popular subscription were not sufficient to oil the streets twice.

CANDIDATES' CATECHISM
 A Few Questions the Anti-Saloon League Will Submit to Politicians

The Kentucky Anti-Saloon League is making preparations to put up a strenuous fight at the coming election, which will be principally made with the candidates for the Legislatures. They have prepared a set of questions, as follows, which will be submitted to each candidate regardless of politics:
 "First—To clear up any uncertainty in present statutes regulating the sale of liquor on Sunday.
 "Second—To separate the saloon from any and all other kinds of business.
 "Third—To require the revocation of saloon licenses in thirty or sixty days after a vote prohibiting the sale of liquor goes into effect.
 "Fourth—Some legislation by which the enforcement of the liquor laws may be possible in the event of the local failure or refusal to do it."

 The J. B. Finley is coming out of the lower Ohio with a tow of empties.
 The river is in fine condition for packet navigation and the shores present a beautiful appearance.
 There have been heavy rains at upriver points and the stage of water promises to hold out for the packets.
 The big towboat Pittsburgh holds the record of having made the banner trip of the season, having out done the record of the W. W. O'Neil by seventeen hours. The Pittsburgh left New Orleans last Saturday with the largest tow ever taken up the river by a boat of her class, and her success and her progress will be watched with much interest by rivermen.

MRS. C. E. FINK
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
 is an honest, tried and true remedy of unquestionable therapeutic value. This medicine made from native roots and herbs contains no narcotics or other harmful drugs and today holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any medicine the world has ever known, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the laboratory at Lynn, Mass., which testify to its wonderful value.
 Mrs. C. E. Fink, of Carnegie, Pa., writes:—Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— "I wish every suffering woman would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and write to you for advice. It has done me a world of good and what it has accomplished for me I know it will do for others."
 When women are troubled with Irregularities, Displacements, Ulceration, Inflammation, Backache, Nervous Prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women
 Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Out of her vast volume of experience she probably has the very knowledge that will help your case.

HEALTH OF WOMEN

In this nineteenth century to keep up with the march of progress every power of woman is strained to its utmost, and the tax upon her physical system is far greater than ever. In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers few drugs were used in medicines. They relied upon roots and herbs to cure weaknesses and disease, and their knowledge of roots and herbs was far greater than that of women today.
 It was in this study of roots and herbs that Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., discovered and gave to the women of the world a remedy more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs.
 This medicine made from native roots and herbs contains no narcotics or other harmful drugs and today holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any medicine the world has ever known, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the laboratory at Lynn, Mass., which testify to its wonderful value.
 Mrs. C. E. Fink, of Carnegie, Pa., writes:—Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— "I wish every suffering woman would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and write to you for advice. It has done me a world of good and what it has accomplished for me I know it will do for others."

BIRD MUSIC
 One Thousand Samples Written in Popular Form by Government Official

Some two years ago the American Farmer contained an article on "The Music of Nature," which attracted much attention from those of our readers who are musically inclined. It explained how all the sounds of nature, those from domestic animals, birds, insects and everything alive, could be set to music by the composer, as each sound represented a note or tone in the diatonic scale.
 Now we learn that Henry Oldys, assistant biologist in the Department of Agriculture, has 1,000 samples of bird music written in popular form, so that it is possible for the human voice exactly to imitate the songsters of the field and forest. He has recorded the actual tones, setting them in the proper musical key, and their reproduction is easy for anybody who can read musical symbols.
 Mr. Oldys has been gathering bird language for thirteen years, and his work is a unique contribution to the most pleasing and popular of the arts.

Harvest Time!

Will soon be here. Say, Mr. Farmer, do you want to have a successful harvest? If you do you will need a Deering Binder and Deering Twine. Did you ever stop to think that Deering Twine has more pounds to the foot than any other twine made? We are agents for both the

and DEERING TWINE!

And will be very glad to have our man demonstrate to you the good qualities of both. Come in. Put in your order for Twine early, as there is an advance in price expected.

PURE FOOD LAW

Interesting Lecture of Prof. R. M. Allen at the Christian Church

Prof. R. M. Allen, who has charge of the Government Experimental Station at Lexington, lectured last evening at the Christian Church in the interest of the Pure Food Law of Kentucky.

Prof. Allen is a very entertaining speaker. He spoke of the various brands practiced on the people in the sale of preserved goods, syrups, extracts, etc., and the work the Commission was doing to have products properly labeled.

NORTHERN BANK

At Low Water Mark of Ohio River For Seven Hundred Miles is Boundary of Kentucky

Under a decision of the Court of Appeals, no grant to the bed of the Ohio river may be recorded, as the state has never provided for the occupation of the river bed as public land.

The Court says the General Assembly may provide for the occupation of the land, however. If it sees fit, and may grant the right to the sand and minerals which may be found between the center of the stream and low water mark.

It defines the boundaries of Kentucky as the Northern low water mark.

The case before the Court was that of Mrs. Fanny Ware of Newport, who claimed that her land bordering on the Ohio river extended to low water mark on the Ohio side.

The Court decides that the land lying in the bed of the river belongs exclusively to the state of Kentucky.

"LIVES OF GREAT MEN ALL REMIND US"

The story of how Marshall Field amassed his great fortune may be told in a few words. He had something to sell and advertised it.

IF YOU ARE GOING TO BUY A

Thin Suit for Hot Weather

Don't imagine that anything will do. You want assurance of quality a good deal more in thin, unlined clothes than in the heavier goods. There's where the light-weight Two-Piece Suits on sale at J. Wesley Lee's comes in. The thin suits we are offering keep shape and look dressy and stylish long after the cheap stuff hangs like a rag.

Tropical Underwear and Shirts.

Shoes that fit the feet and make life's walk easy.
